Rest (Matthew 11:28-30)

Come to Me all who are weary, come to Me all who are burdened, And I will give you rest, I will give you rest. Rest. Take My yoke upon you and learn of Me. For I am gentle and humble in heart. When you seek My face, I'll give you love and grace.

Come to Me all who are weary, come to Me all who are burdened, And I will give you peace, I will give you peace. Peace. For My yoke is easy and burden is light. For I am gentle and humble in heart. You will find peace for your soul. Truly, I'll make you whole. Come to Me, come to Me.

This world is full of trouble and tribulations. And you face many temptations. While you are praying to Me, I'll give the strength you need. Come to Me, come to Me. Come. Come and rest.

At Calvary . . . with Pastor Davis

Contemplating nuggets from our CMC church family Bible reading:

Does it ever seem like messages in the Bible are contradictory? Isn't it interesting to read the account of Job alongside Psalms – especially Job 22 accompanied with Psalm 15!

*'Lord, who may abide in Your tabernacle?
Who may dwell in Your holy hill?*

*2 He who walks uprightly,
And works righteousness,
And speaks the truth in his heart;
3 He who does not backbite with his tongue,
Nor does evil to his neighbor,
Nor does he take up a reproach against his friend;
4 In whose eyes a vile person is despised,
But he honors those who fear the Lord;
He who swears to his own hurt and does not change;
5 He who does not put out his money at usury,
Nor does he take a bribe against the innocent.*

He who does these things shall never be moved.

So often we read such things and would ascribe to such an individual smooth sailing and a life free of trial or full of tangible blessing. It seems Eliphaz was presuming this and, when looking at Job's sufferings, concluded Job had got himself into some wicked things to be getting what he reasoned to be some harsh comeuppance for serious wrongdoing. What trouble we get ourselves into in our thinking when we imagine we know what is transpiring behind the curtain, outside of our knowledge, beyond our sight, with our view, scope and perspective so very limited! Job's friends became accusers when they tried to speak to what they did not know and then went further to draw inaccurate conclusions.

We can look at Job's life falling apart around him and wonder what he did wrong. (And we can do the same contemplating our own life.) We can then look at Psalm 15 and conclude that it does not work – or that it certainly did not work for Job. And then we remind ourselves that Psalm 15 is answering a question. The question is not 'how do you get all the pleasure and pleasantness out of this life?' but Lord, who may abide in your tabernacle? Who may dwell in Your holy hill? The verses that follow speak of how such a blessed fellowship with God can be known. Even in the midst of his hurt and confusion, Job continued to live out such a life, honored the Lord, and, in that sense, we can confidently say that Job was an example of He who does these things shall never be moved.

I have rejoiced in the way of Your testimonies, As much as in all riches.

Psalm 119:14
